Step 5 of 5

Congratulations, your face shape is diamond

Shape: The diamond face shape is broadest at the cheekbones, and narrow at the forehead and jaw, with a pointed chin.

Styles: Styles that appear to narrow the width at the cheekbones and lend width to the forehead and jawline will be most flattering on this face shape. Decrease volume at your crown and around your ear areas. Choose styles that lie reasonably flat across the cheekbones. Try a full fringe to broaden the forehead, and create width in hair below the jawline to balance a narrow jaw. You will probably suit long hair very well. Adding curl and fullness to the chin area and just above the temples can help round out the look. Avoid styles that mirror the diamond shape.
